

Obsolete / Surplus Vehicles
October 22, 2025

Site/Department	QTY	Vehicles	Issue with Vehicles
Maintenance &amp; Operations	1	1989 Chevy 2500	The vehicle has a blown rear axle. The estimated cost to repair the truck is $2,500, and its estimated value is $1,500.
Maintenance &amp; Operations	1	1998 GMC 3500 HD	The vehicle cannot pass smog and has a damaged front end. The estimated cost to repair the truck is $5,000, and its estimated value is $800.
Maintenance &amp; Operations	1	1998 Ford E1500	The vehicle cannot pass smog and has a fuel tank issue. The estimated cost to repair the truck is $1,500, and its estimated value is $1,000.
Maintenance &amp; Operations	1	2000 Dodge Ram 2500	The vehicle has a blown ECU computer. The estimated cost to repair the truck is $3,000, and its estimated value is $800.
Maintenance &amp; Operations	1	2000 GMC 2500	The vehicle's front end needs to be replaced and has a bad fuel system. The estimated cost to repair the truck is $3,000, and its estimated value is $1,500.