Description of Services		Consideration		Evaluation and Metrics
Students take standards based assessments for ELA and Math throughout the year to determine progress and growth. It is a good tool for student interventions and teachers to adjust instructional practices based on assessment data provided. Data from the assessments may be used during teacher PLT time to review collaboratively.		The iReady program is aligned with the PLC/PLT work we are doing. It provides valuable assessment data to determine academic growth, and the data may encourage teachers to adjust their own instructional practices. It's also self paced, so students may work at their own pace most of the time. Prior Board Approval(s): N/A		We will look at the immediate standards based data iReady provides. That's a key point. We don't have to wait until September when we get CAASPP scores. That is one assessment at one time. iReady allows us to assess multiple times throughout the year and teachers get immediate data. We will certainly review the 2026/27 CAASPP scores to determine annual growth, as well as the regular assessment data the program provides.
