We would like to request an update to the price list. Due to an increase in costs for materials and labor, AmTab has created a new price list for 2026. Over half of the products offered by AmTab did not change in price while many recieved either a price increase or decrease; the average percentage change across these items is an increase of about 10%.

Dear Esteemed Partners,

The perceived price changes in the 2026 price list compared to the 2025 price list are due to an update in AmTab's pricing standards. Previously, the use of our design team was priced as an upgrade from the base-level products. Given the strong customer preference for our design packages, we have now incorporated them into the standard pricing. Customers still have the option to select a downgraded version aligned with the previous pricing structure. As a result, while the 2026 price list may appear to reflect an average increase of approximately 10% across all products, there is no actual price increase.

Should you have any queries or require further information, please do not hesitate to reach out.

Best Regards,

Matt Freas
