Hardware and Network Compatibility

Cybersoft systems are intended for use with Ethernet and wireless installations where performance and demand are monitored by a certified network administrator. It is expected that wiring, switching, routing, etc. are up to current standards and that supporting network equipment is appropriate for the network traffic and user software employed on that network.

While Cybersoft makes every effort to protect its software, firmware and data from intrusion and attack from hostile entities, it is the Licensee's responsibility to provide adequate firewall protection, anti-viral software, and attack monitoring for their network.

Foreign Software

Any software not included in the system, not approved by Cybersoft for installation on its systems or installed by a user, voids warranties for Cybersoft systems and equipment. Cybersoft is not responsible for system failure due to the installation of foreign software.

Power and Cabling

It is the express responsibility of the Licensee to provide appropriate and stable power for equipment and hardware. Cybersoft requires the Licensee to use power supply protection equipment equal to the demand of the installed systems. Network cabling, switching, and monitoring is the responsibility of the Licensee, unless included as a line item of the quote. All software and hardware warranties are immediately voided if this policy is not upheld.

Software Support is mandatory and is priced as quoted. For the initial year that this agreement is in force the support period will begin at the start of installation and end the subsequent June 30th. Support fees for that partial support period will be prorated to the purchase date. Purchase of additional Cybersoft software licenses will affect the annual software support charge. The Software Support Fee shall be subject to an annual increase of up to 8%. Hardware warranties included are those of the manufacturer and should be exercised directly with the manufacturer.

Warranty Disclaimer

Except for those non-excludable warranties, conditions, and terms, Cybersoft makes no warranties, conditions, representation, guarantees or terms (express or implied, whether by statute, common law, custom, usage or otherwise) as to any matter including performance, results, security, noninfringement, merchantability, integration, quiet enjoyment, satisfactory quality, and fitness for any particular purpose.
