A group of people are gathered in a meeting room. The walls are covered with various framed abstract artworks, including geometric shapes and patterns in colors like red, blue, yellow, and black. In the center, a man in a dark suit and tie is looking towards the camera with a serious expression. To his left, a woman with long brown hair is gesturing with her hands as if speaking. Other people are visible in the background, some looking at their phones or talking to each other. The overall atmosphere is professional and collaborative.
