

Workforce Ready Pathway Career Competencies Course Number 32.4xxxx

Course Description

~~* This and the two sequenced courses are intended to be taught to students meeting Special Populations definitions as detailed in Perkins V “Strengthening Career and Technical Education for the 21st Century Act.” Special Populations students include the following subgroups: students with disabilities; students from economically disadvantaged families, including low-income youth and adults; students preparing for non-traditional fields; single parents, including pregnant women; out-of-workforce individuals; English learners; homeless students described in Section 725 of the McKinney-Vento Homeless Assistance Act (42 U.S.C. 11434a); students who are in, or who have aged out of, the foster care system; and students with a parent who is a member of the armed forces and is on active duty. Additionally, the Workforce Ready pathway will benefit students who are at risk of not graduating from high school and those students who may not be able to complete pathways of their talents and interests.~~

In this course students acquire employability skills that ease their transition to the workforce. Specific skills within the course provide additional opportunities for students to sharpen academic and employability skills, financial literacy, multiple forms of communication strategies, mastery of technology and specific-related tools, workplace safety, and self-advocacy approaches. These essential skills and concepts need to be taught in an individualized basis to meet the academic and workplace skill-needs of students. Through participation in this career pathway, students will learn about the world of work by achieving academic challenges, participating in project-based learning activities, workplace enrichment experiences, and participation in a Career and Technical Student Organization (CTSO) that provides inner-personal and group-related leadership skills. Requisite Exposure: Teacher will need to allow or provide for guest speakers to visit classrooms to provide workforce simulations, information, and case studies. Teacher will also need to allow or provide for business and industry/community access through visits, tours, shadowing, internships, work-based learning, registered apprenticeships, and/or related opportunities such that students experience work-related settings.

Course Standard 1

SP-CC-1

The following standard is included in all CTAE courses adopted for the Career Cluster/Pathways. Teachers should incorporate the elements of this standard into lesson plans during the course. The topics listed for each element of the standard may be addressed in differentiated instruction matching the content of each course.
