7. State Board Rule 160-5-1-.29 Minimum Direct Classroom Expenditures Waiver – Four School Systems
   a. State Board Rule 160-5-1-.29(3)(b) Minimum Direct Classroom Expenditures and O.C.G.A. § 20-2- 171(b)(4) establishes the requirements for ensuring that at least 65 percent of the Local Education Agency's (LEA) total operating expenditures are spent on direct classroom instruction. LEAs have three ways in which they can meet the statutory requirements:
      i. Spending 65 percent or more of total operating expenditures on direct classroom instruction, or
      ii. Increase its Direct Classroom Expenditures by a minimum of two percent per fiscal year or
      iii. Meeting student achievement performance levels that exceed the state average in graduation rate or SAT score.
   b. Brooks County, Emanuel County, Evans County, Jasper County, Lanier County, Tattnall County, and Wilkes County school systems are requesting approval of their waivers of State Board Rule 160-5-1-.29(3)(b) Minimum Direct Classroom Expenditures and O.C.G.A. § 20-2-171(b)(4) for Fiscal Year 2016 (FY 2016).
   c. The school systems are eligible to request a waiver, as provided in State Board Rule, because each school system signed a Strategic Waiver School System (SWSS) or Charter System Performance Contract.
   d. The Department's Finance Division reviewed and recommended that the waivers be approved.
   e. It is recommended that the waivers be approved for FY 2016.

Dr. Garry McGiboney presented this item. Dr. McGiboney explained that the districts which are requesting waiver have SWSS or Charter contracts that went into effect for FY 17 and therefore will not need to request future waivers. There was no Committee discussion. This item will be placed on the Consent Agenda.

(NOTE: The waiver is for FY 16 because expenditures and student achievement results cannot be calculated until after the fiscal year ends. Also, these school system's SWSS contracts were not in effect during the FY16 fiscal year. Additionally, it should be noted that costs for transportation, food services, plant operations and maintenance, media centers, teacher training, school nurses and school counselors are not included in the definition and calculation of Direct Classroom Expenditures.)

II. Discussion Items

1. Federal Report

A recent initiative in Congress to overturn accountability regulations for the Every Student Succeeds Act could have far-reaching consequences for how the law works in states.

Groups supporting the move argue that it would free schools from unnecessary burdens, while opponents contend that overturning the rules could hurt vulnerable students and create turmoil in states and districts trying to finalize their transition to ESSA, the 2015 law that replaced the No Child Left Behind Act.

Last week, the House of Representatives approved a joint resolution that would overturn ESSA accountability regulations issued by the previous administration. Those rules, which became final in November, are intended to detail for states the timeline for addressing underperforming schools, how schools must be rated, the ways English-language learners must be considered in state accountability plans, and other policy issues.

Repeal of the regulations would not alter ESSA itself, which requires states to administer annual tests in reading and math in grades 3-8 and once in high school, identify certain schools as needing improvement, and use results from tests in several ways in state accountability systems.

Congress can overturn regulations from the executive branch through the Congressional Review Act. That statute also prohibits executive agencies from subsequently issuing "substantially similar" regulations for the same law. The practical and legal impact of that phrase remains unclear, however.

So it remains to be seen how the Education Department under new leadership would try to write new accountability regulations for ESSA, or if the department would undertake such an effort at all.

But supporters of overturning the rules point out that the Every Student Succeeds Act prohibits the education secretary from issuing conditional waivers of the law's provisions.

Many of the lawmakers who wrote ESSA are still in Congress and they feel a great sense of ownership over the very strong, bipartisan law that resulted in the Every Student Succeeds Act. The majority of lawmakers do not want the law to be undermined by federal regulations. Conversely, it would be difficult for a department, without regulations, to start to reject state plans that are consistent with the statute.

STUDENT ACHIEVEMENT

Academic Auditing Overview

- The Governor's Office of Student Achievement is charged under O.C.G.A § 20-14-35 with inspecting academic records of schools to ensure that education institutions are faithful to performance accountability requirements.
- O.C.G.A § 20-14-36 calls for GOSA to recommend and the State Board of Education adopt written procedures for audits.
- Since 2009, GOSA has conducted an annual audit to ensure that assessments are administered with fidelity. The results of this analysis are presented to the SBOE each February.

Milestones Assessment Analyses Process Overview

- GOSA contracts with the state testing vendor (currently Data Recognition Corporation) to conduct analyses of Georgia Milestones assessments in all grade levels and subject areas.
  - Until 2016, GOSA focused exclusively on an erasure analysis of wrong-to-right answer changes.
  - In 2016, GOSA expanded the Milestones analysis to include the following:
    - Answer change analysis for tests administered online, and
    - Unusual gains and response patterns analysis in English and Mathematics EOGs in grades 4-8.
- The results of the Milestones analyses are used as an initial flag to spur further investigation of many indicators to determine if any cheating occurred. The results do not indicate that cheating necessarily occurred.

Milestones Assessment Analyses Process Overview

GOSA Desktop Audit

- GOSA conducts a desktop audit to determine a possible explanation for the flag that would remove the need for further inquiry using indicators that include but are not limited to:
  - Number of classrooms flagged in each school and whether the flagged classrooms had different test administrators;
  - Total answer changes and number of wrong-to-right (w-t-r) at the classroom level, including student-level data to determine whether erasures are concentrated in a small number of students;
  - The severity of the flag (how high the standard deviations are above the threshold);
  - Percentage of total classroom answers changed from w-t-r;
  - Type of school; and
  - History as a school of concern and previous monitoring/auditing visits.

Milestones Assessment Analyses Process Overview

Example of a "no further inquiry" school:

- Test Elementary School (Nowhere County):
  - One classroom (5th grade-Math) was flagged w-t-r with a standard deviation (SD) of 6.7 SD
  - The classroom had 22 students.
  - 81% of classroom answer changes were w-t-r (90 w-t-r erasures out of 111 total erasures).
  - One student had 59 w-t-r answer changes out of 67 answer changes.
  - Only 38% of classroom answer changes for other 21 students were w-t-r.
  - One student was responsible for two-thirds of classroom w-t-r answer changes resulting in classroom flagged status, suggesting that systematic cheating was unlikely.

Milestones Assessment Analyses Process Overview

After analysis, GOSA staff make one of two determinations:

- Supplementary data reviewed sufficiently explains the reason for the flag. No further inquiry is required.
- Supplementary data reviewed does not sufficiently explain the reason for the flag. Further inquiry is required, and the school is moved to the next phase.

Milestones Assessment Analyses Process Overview

Schools Requiring Further Inquiry

- GOSA makes recommendations to the SBOE concerning schools requiring further inquiry that include one or more of the following:
  - Submission of an inquiry form to GOSA describing the reasoning for the flag and steps taken to reduce the likelihood for future flags,
  - Rotation of teachers during test administration so that teachers are not administering test to students they are currently teaching, and
  - The possibility of a visit from a state monitor during spring administration of the Georgia Milestones for one or more days.

The full Milestones investigation process is available on the GOSA website.

Answer Change Analysis Overview

- Previously known as the Erasure Analysis until online assessments were added this year.
- Examines test items where an answer choice was changed and replaced with another answer choice.
  - Examines all answer changes and wrong-to-right answer changes
  - Includes all test items, including embedded field-test items
- For EOG, includes all spring Grades 3-8 EOG Assessments in English/Language Arts, Science, Social Studies, and Mathematics.
- For EOC, includes all winter 2015 and spring 2016 grades 7-12 assessments

EOG Answer Change Analysis Results

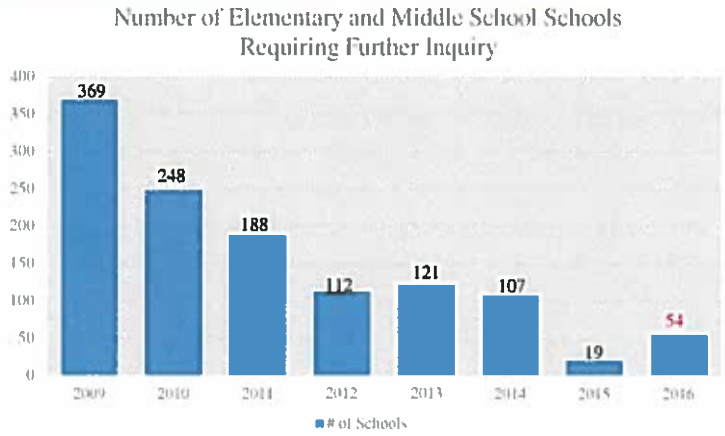
EOG Flagging Criteria (Grades 3-8)

- Five percent or more of classrooms in a school are flagged at four standard deviations or greater, OR
- One classroom is flagged at seven standard deviations or greater.

Summary Information

- 784,646 answer forms were analyzed for the spring 2016 administration.
  - 351,049 paper & pencil
  - 433,597 online
- 222 classrooms in 75 schools in 40 LEAs were flagged for a desktop audit.
- After desktop audit, 199 classrooms in 54 schools in 30 LEAs require further inquiry and may be monitored during spring 2017 testing.

EOG Answer Change Analysis Results



- The increase in 2016 is largely due to the inclusion of classrooms tested online.

EOG Answer Change Analysis Results

Number of schools monitored by State	97	51	52	34	40	42	19	TBD after inquiry

*First year of Georgia Milestones. Flagging criteria also changed from 3.0SDs to 4.0SDs for EOG.

EOC Answer Change Analysis Results

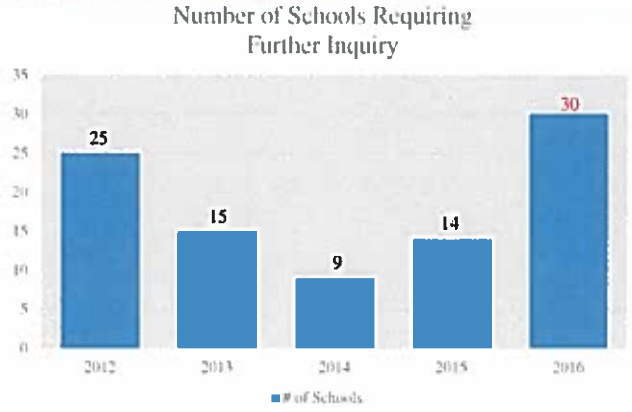
EOC Flagging Criteria (Grades 7-12)

- Schools with multiple classrooms flagged at five standard deviations or greater, OR
- One classroom is flagged at seven standard deviations or greater.

Summary Information

- 795,721 answer forms (increase of over 500,000 from 2015 analysis) were analyzed for the spring 2016 administration.
- 76 classrooms in 30 schools in 12 LEAs were flagged for a desktop audit.
- After desktop audit, 72 classrooms in 30 schools in 12 LEAs require further inquiry and will be monitored.

EOC Answer Change Analysis Results



- The increase in 2016 is largely due to the inclusion of classrooms testing online.

EOC Erasure Analysis Results

	2012	2013	2014	2015*	2016
Number of schools included in the analysis	593	451	430	416	866
Number of schools requiring further inquiry	25	15	9	14	30
Number of schools monitored by State	7	5	9	14	TBD after inquiry

*First year of Georgia Milestones. Flagging criteria changed from 4.0SDs to 5.0SDs for EOC.

Unusual Response Pattern Analysis Overview

This analysis identifies schools that have unexpected test score gains across years using a cohort of students as well as unexpected patterns in student answers.

- Unexpected patterns include (1) unlikely blocks of consecutive, identical answers, (2) highly correlated answers across tests, (3) correlation of responses across test items, and (4) cases where students miss easy items but answer difficult answers correctly.
- Requires a year-to-year cohort to examine test score gains, so it is more appropriate for EOG grade levels.
- Includes all Grades 4-8 EOG Assessments in ELA and Mathematics in 1,648 schools.
- Analyzes by test form (A or B), grade level, and subject area within each school.

Unusual Response Pattern Analysis Overview

Unusual Response Pattern Flagging Criteria (Grades 3-8)*

- Schools where two or more testing groups had test score gains and unusual response patterns that were in the 95th percentile, OR
- Schools were one testing group had test score gains and unusual response patterns that were in the 99th percentile.

Each testing group is the total number of students by grade level and subject area (ELA or mathematics) who took a certain test form (A or B) regardless of classroom assignment.

- For example, all students in a school who took the 4th grade mathematics Georgia Milestones Form A assessment are a testing group.

For the first year of this analysis, GOSA did not conduct a desktop audit to clear flagged schools. As such, all schools flagged using criteria above will be required to submit an inquiry form.*

Unusual Response Pattern Analysis Results

	2016
Number of schools included in analysis	1,648
Number of schools requiring further inquiry	35
Number of schools monitored by State	TBD after inquiry

- 35 schools in 20 LEAs require further inquiry and may be monitored (2.1% of schools examined).
  - 14 schools in ELA
  - 25 schools in mathematics
- Four schools were flagged on both the answer change analysis and the unusual response pattern analysis.
  - These schools will be monitored during 2017 testing, regardless of inquiry form responses.

Recommendations to the SBOE

GOSA will:

1. Share EOG/EOC data files with superintendents of LEAs that have schools requiring further inquiry to facilitate:
   - LEA internal investigation of reason(s) for flags, and
   - Submission of online inquiry form to GOSA with results of investigation and an explanation of testing protocols in place.
2. Require identified schools to rotate teachers for the 2017 Georgia Milestones test administration (End of Grade Tests).
3. Assign state monitors to observe and inspect identified schools requiring further inquiry for the 2017 Georgia Milestones test administration as necessary (End of Course and End of Grade tests).
4. Conduct on-site audits as necessary.
